

Warm-up Activity

In any war, there are two tremendous tasks. That of the combat troops is to fight the enemy. That of the supply troops is to furnish all the material to insure victory. The faster and farther the combat troops advance against the foe, the greater becomes the battle of supply.

Dwight D. Eisenhower
October 1945

Briefly explain what you think Eisenhower meant by the above statement.